

Shots From The Balcony

What a grand summer it has been; we feel blessed to have the time freedom to witness the wonder filled sky in her day to day changes.

There are just so many wonderful colors to see in the beautiful sky.

A different beautiful post card vision for our enjoyment practically every day.

We also appreciate the time to get playful and creative. It feels so good to feel young and vital. Playing really is the cats meow when it comes to feeling alive!

Even here in the city, a quick look around uncovers splashes of nature in all her glory and beauty.

As you can see from our photographs, our balcony faces west and so we are afforded an abundance of beautiful sunsets.

Then of course there are the moon shots.

How about the mind bending light and cloud interactions?
