

Follow Your Dream
An Invitation to Student Inventors

Are you a college student with a great idea that you believe will improve how we live? Could you be the creator of the next best thing that moves us toward a healthier, happier, higher frequency planet?

If you are 20 – 25 yrs old, and you'd like to talk about what you're creating, here's an opportunity to do so.

Begin by e-mailing Jennifer requesting an application to be interviewed. If your application is selected, the next issue of The Magic Happens will include a brief bio about you, a 20 minute audio interview with you, and a link for readers who wish to donate toward you bringing forth your invention.

Naturally we don't expect you to give away the farm. Purely, in the spirit of thriving and creating abundance we've learned the value of connections.

E-mail Jennifer for an application to be interviewed.
Jeniifer's article, Walk on the Wildside

Jennifer Burrows