

A Peak Inside

We really want you to know that we are just like you so we created this little space where you can peak inside at our day to day lives and see for yourself. As far as we can see, there is only one real difference between thriving and existing – following inspiration or not. Living now, where we are is the magical key to living a happy successful life, whatever that might be to each of us. For this issue, we are going to give you a glimpse of where and how we work/play.

Our work is our play and we play hard. This is me sitting at my desk letting you see how happy I am about the play life we have built for ourselves. Incase you are wondering, the sign behind my desk there says, 'relatives by appointment, friends welcome.' The irony of that sign is that it was given to me by my sister for Christmas.

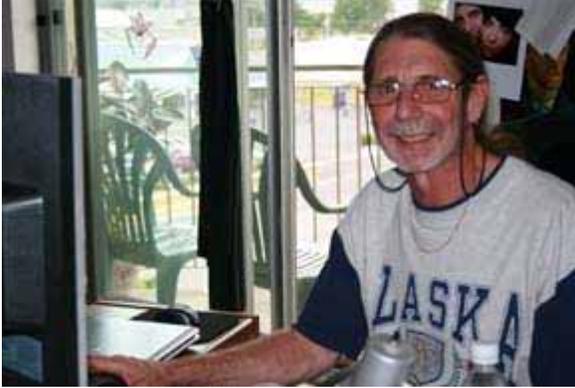

This is the view from my desk. Right in front of me is my laptop and off to the right is the screen to my PC. Straight ahead you can see Wayne at his desk and beyond that is our tiny, hardly ever used living room.

This is a wider view of my desk space. That is Wayne's PC in the fore ground and the balcony doors beside my desk.

And there is a better look at Wayne, hard at play getting this magazine up for everyone to enjoy.

Wayne really likes our lifestyle too. He's been putting in a lot of long days this last couple of weeks and yet he keeps smiling so he really must love it don't you think?

This is the view from Wayne's desk. The desk there is Julie's and the doorway through the wall leads to our kitchen.

That's Julie on the left there, Wayne's desk straight ahead and the tiny living room on the right. Oh yeah, and there is the little trampoline on the floor to the left. We all like to bounce; it's fun to bounce.

This is Julie. The general consensus in our house is that we are all really happy with our lives, our selves and our work/play. The question remains, are we happy because of how we live or do we live this way cuz we are happy? What do you think?

This is the view from Julie's desk; nifty huh? So what are you inspired to do now towards the lifestyle you want?

In Gratitude
