

A Note From Kat

It's our 1st anniversary!! Wooo Hooo!!

We made it through a full year!! And what a year it has been!!

We have experienced the fullness of what the Universe can provide in ways that I could never have even imagined. I have to be honest here and tell you that the law of attraction isn't even close to everything it's chalked up to be in the secret. It's more – it's fuller – it's wiser – it's far more expansive than anything I've read or seen on the subject to date. ;-)

The most important thing I've learned and witnessed through this year long experience is that action on inspirations is imperative, even if the action didn't look like it was related to the intended result. In other words, if I do what I can to follow my inspirations, using whatever tools I have at my disposal, then over time, the Universe will provide what I need to expand the inspiration closer and closer to the intended result I want to achieve.

YES! It really works that way!

A little over a year ago we embarked on this crazy journey with visions of sugar plums dancing in our heads. We wanted to highlight people thriving, what thriving means – how it supports life and to be an example of that ourselves. We wanted to take our magazine to print; to have 'spin off' magazines bringing the many beautiful people doing miraculous things to light in the public eye. We wanted to become a voice of hope in a time when many feel hopeless. We also wanted to make the internet version of The Magic Happens Magazine an interactive, user friendly site that inspired people to explore their highest potential.

We didn't have the funds to create much of what we wanted. We didn't have the contacts to bring the wonderful projects to light that we wanted to highlight. And truthfully, with so few of us, we couldn't write about everything we wanted to write about.

We got to work anyway. We did what we could. We created the website we did know how to create. We gathered the people we knew who were thriving and asked them to write for the magazine. We've tried some things that didn't work and we tried some things that did.

We did what we could with the tools we had.

Now we get to watch as the Universe lines up the rest and boy is the Universe ever showing up with bells on!!

I can't tell you any of the specifics just yet – there are a few events that need to line up first – I can tell you this; the people and funds we need have already made themselves known to us. This magazine is about to become everything we held in our thoughts and so much more. The needed negotiations are underway and by the Autumn Edition we will be able to share the 'who's', the 'how's' and the 'when's' of at least some of these amazing manifestations. :-)

We followed our inspired ideas into action to the best of our ability and the Universe HAS answered with the rest and so very much more then we could even dream of a year ago.

So often we hear of brilliant ideas coming from wonderful caring people who are reluctant to move forward on their inspirations because they believe they need all of the components figured out before they start. The Magic Happens Crew easily could have taken that route but if we had, the opportunities and angels the Universe has sent our way never would have come into view.

The manifestations that are taking place now happened because there was a magazine for someone to notice. It wasn't the result of us talking to someone about our idea and vision; it was the result of someone seeing our vision in action in spite of it being a mere shadow of what we wanted it to be.

The ball doesn't get pitched until you step up to the plate. ~

The Magic Happens Magazine is living proof that if one follows ones inspirations into action, stays in love with their vision, all things wanted will appear; gently, easily and without any force.

So what are you dreaming about today? Will you step up to the plate?

In Gratitude For All That Is And Will Be!
