

A Note From Wayne

Can you actually believe this???? As of this Summer Edition it has been one full year that The Magic Happens Free Internet Magazine has been on the internet.

It seems like only a few days ago that Kat and I had this wonderful idea of posting our experiences and our living out loud lifestyle for the whole world to see.

Who will read this sort of stuff? Why would someone want to check this magazine out? How can we actually make it happen? Can we inspire others to be connected to our magazine? What about finding other connected people to write for the magazine? Advertising, themes, articles, features, layouts, colors etc???? There were so many things at the time to consider and make this project blossom.

Looking back over the first year, all I can say is one huge thank you to each and every one of you. I have been totally blown away by your letters, ideas, financial support, not to mention the wonderful friendships, the hundreds of phone conversations.

Of course I can never forget all the tidbits of knowledge that I have gained by reading the many articles from all of the contributors. Each and every single one of you is the best at what you do in life. I appreciate you and without mentioning any names as you know who you are, a big thank you for your contribution.

I would love to make special mention of my other half in this venture, Kat McCarthy. Without her passion, her creativity, her inspirations and most of all her lovable character, this magazine would have died a quick and certain death. The countless hours on the phone, at her keyboard and all her research, made this first year of the magazine happen. I love you baby for being you. Thank You.....

Mary K Weinhagen, our editor. What a total package of awareness. She is the person who ensures that the submitted content is correct in all aspects, a fabulous writer herself, and someone who energetically taps into source energy daily. Finally, she is one that I can honestly and lovingly call a true friend. Thank You!

The help received from many, the advice, the new ideas, the feedback has all assisted to make this one incredible year. The statistics we have tabulated have made all the passion we've put into this magazine worth every single minute of effort.

At this time – while I am not at liberty to say just what because we are still in negotiations – some amazing things are coming down the pipeline for The Magic Happens. I just wanted you all to know that the energy is higher than ever before here at command central. I am certain that everyone reading will be simply blown away by the up and coming announcements.

Thanks to every one again for making our dream a reality, you are appreciated. May The Magic continue to Happen for you.

I would also love to wish all Canadians a very happy July 1st celebration and to all our American friends a happy July 4th. May it be a happy and safe day for everyone.

Peace and Love
